Starting point:

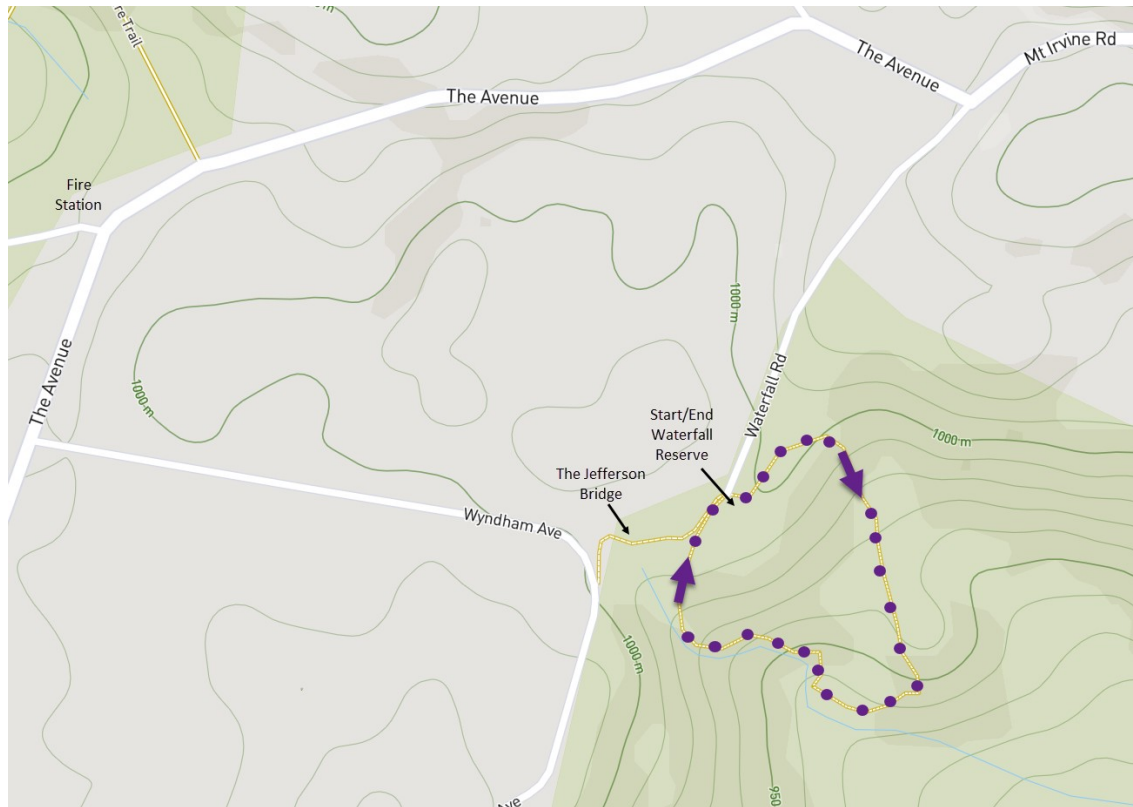

Bottom of Waterfall Road in the Waterfall Reserve Picnic area.

Walking conditions:

- Well formed track
- Good steps
- Steep in sections
- Some slippery sections when wet

Highlights:

- Rainforest
- Waterfalls
- Enjoyable Circuit Walk

Start in the Waterfall Reserve. With your back to Waterfall road veer to the left across the picnic grounds and you will soon pick up the track to the right of the toilet block. A delightful rainforest walk down to the Waterfall Creek with a lovely rainforest gully on the left. The track is a little steep but it is well formed with good steps and it is well worth it. This is true rainforest: sassafras, giant coachwood, corkwood, treeferns.

The waterfalls are viewed as you walk up beside Waterfall Creek. There is a signpost to the lower falls which is like a little grotto with moss-covered rocks and is a lovely spot to sit and take in the surrounds. The track then heads up to the bigger falls where the water tumbles down the basalt cliff. Continue on and soon return to the picnic ground.

It is also worth walking to Jefferson Bridge (across Waterfall Creek) which connects Wyndham Avenue to Waterfall Road or combining this as a circuit walk from the firestation.
